“Kimberly Biddle visited our Fifth-Grade classes at Country Day School, to share her book LaDonna Plays Hoops. Her enthusiasm and willingness to share her writing process and journey was inspirational to our budding authors. Her presentation included reading aloud, teaching her ‘Family Hoops Star’ song, singing with our students, and fielding questions from our Fifth Graders. Kimberly thoughtfully answered questions and engaged with our children. Her excitement surrounding writing and publishing was evident throughout her presentation.”

“Thank you so much, Dr. Biddle, for being the guest author at our Dr. Seuss Day. The students, staff, and parents thoroughly enjoyed your story and the energy that went along with it. Your love of children and passion for reading is very evident. We hope to have you back at our school again soon.”

“When Dr. Biddle read her book, LaDonna Plays Hoops to the children at our event, she held the room spellbound. There's nothing quite like hearing an author read aloud their own work in person, especially a children's author. Not only is Dr. Biddle is a gifted storyteller; she uses her gift to make a difference in the world. It also doesn't hurt that she's an accomplished child development scholar with a PhD from Stanford! I highly recommend her readings to any group who loves a good story.”
